VIKING VINTR VUNDERLANDT FOUR

The Fourth Annual Viking Vintr Vunderlandt will be held in Dragonsspine on November 12th, A.S. XXIII. The sites will be the same as last year -- Black Forest El Paso County Park/Black Forest Community Church.

The day's events will be as in the past -- the BIG Game of three teams and a 'sheep', somewhat akin to other peaceful sports as rugby, soccer and a melee. The losing team wins custody of a wonderful (in the old sense) traveling trophy for a year. We will also have some kind of viking games as spear tossing, hammer throwing and other events of skill. DRESS WARMLY! Change to your party clothes at the indoor site.

As this year also commemorates the 10th Birthday of the Barony of Dragonsspine -- our first DECADE anniversary -- we are holding a DECADEnt revel. This is NOT a bawdy revel, but rather, a challenge to see just how decadent the vikings could really be. It is a time of silken garb, furs and brocades. What could the vikings come up with in the way of apparel after they brought their booty home? There will be a bardic where period and filk performances will be equally appreciated. Baroness Miranda will be featuring a competition of finger foods, where DECADEnce will also be considered -- such as marzipan stuffed dates -- a 'Pampered Hamper' munchies contest. We request that entries be treated tastefully -- this is NOT the infamous DECADENCE party, but a DECADEnt celebration of a 10th year as a barony.

There will be the usual luncheon sideboard of 'creative' Scandinavian dishes. The evening meal is a Fortune Kettle -- if you do not bring something to share, we'll all be HUNGRY. There will be a dessert sideboard from the Pampered Hamper competition. Please enter.

A Journey to Nordmark

by Lord Eoin of the Torriloc Moors

I, being of a seafaring clan of Scotland, found land travel very uncomfortable. Why you may ask am I currently living so far inland in the Shire of Perilous Journey? Well you see being in the Scottish Foreign Legion (their Diplomatic Corps), and of noble blood, there was this misunderstanding about a certain lady, and well... ah, that is another tale entirely. I decided to take my uncle's advice and become an ambassador to this "Isle of Freedom"!

I started my journey riding one of Britania's wheeled caravans, since my personal dragon had a acquired a power problem. All along the sole caravan route from this isle to the border of peace, I wondered what to expect of the rumored Barony of Nordmark. I heard that it covered vast tracts of land, full of chilling year-round cold and harsh almost barren mountains.

My comrade, milord Rolf, rode his dragon up from the southern shire of Rauchenderberg and met me at the caravan crossroads. We rode north towards a port on the northern shores of our principality's central region. As we came within a league of the port, my heart quickened with the smell of salt air. I could barely await this next chance to be at sea, with a strong ship under my feet and the sea's breath in my hair.

The night before I left, was spent with friends. As their little bairn's bedtime drew nye, the kind mother read him a fairy tale. The tale was of a boy who wouldn't grow up in a land called "Never Never". As the lad in the tale sprinkled fairy dust on a captured pirate ship and sailed away through the night's sky to find further adventures, the small bairn fell asleep. What makes this event noteworthy, is the name of the ship that gave us our northerly passage; the Peter Pan! I almost expected the captain of the ship to leap onto the fordeck, dressed in green, sprinkle the ship with the same dust, and take us away to the mystical lands of Nordmark! I sensed a grand tale in the making!

As we travelled the many leagues, with the hidden oars and drummers thundering onward, we felt the world we knew harshly slipping away with the bone chilling night air. We entered the Barony's southern port of Trelleborg with scarcely an incident. Well there was this fair damsel in the galley..... but, uh, humph, where was I?!

For once our cartographers and spies were accurate. Relatively easily we found our way to the proposed war site and even before it started. Having a few hours to spend, we decided to visit several of the local fortifications. Most were in desparate need of repair probably due to the recent war Nordmark had won with the land of the Danes to the southwest for this tract of land.

Our spies informed us that the dissention causing this conflict which divided the forces of the Barony was over which side of their traditional breakfast knaekerbrod should be buttered. One group felt that the "Holy" side should be buttered, the other group the "Flat". Our camp was virtually surrounded by a lush forest, and as I awoke on the morn of the pending war, I was greeted by a warm sun, bright blue sky, and cool breeze. The perfect weather for engaging in war and earning glory on a battlefield! Having seen a good many wars in my day (what with our Foreign Legion and my personal ventures), I was greatly impressed with the several types of plate armour found in such a new group of forces!

The war consisted of four main battles:

1. The Holy avengers invaded their adversaries defenses, reaking havoc among their green troops.

2. The 'Flat folk' mustered their reserves and with the help of hired mercenaries, ambushed the returning camp of the Holy's, leaving nye but a few to run away and tell of their own loss.

3. The persistent fighters for the Nook's and Crannies (Nookies and crannicians?!!) ambushed an Unholy crusade headed to expand their flat domain. The avengers crushed their foul ememy's advance, however the mercenaries supporting the Flat people took the Flat Banner, and challenged the Holy's for it. The unrelenting 'Holy horde' still prevailed.

4. The final conflict was a Resurrection Melee. The Holy side proved beyond any doubt, that the hol'y side remains up for at least until the next year when perhaps the flat side can gather their forces for another try.

After the war was offered a grand feast, with dancing, singing, and Bardic skills in abundance. It was truly a superb revel.

Several days after the war, Rolf, myself and a wandering fighter from the Barony of Nordskogen (of the Midrealm), decided to further our travels, to a couple of Nordmark's islands. On the first island, Oland, where the majestic remains of a coastal defense fortification called Borgholm still lay. The grandeur of this fine Castle cannot be justly described here, (perhaps another missive?!). We continued to the famed isle of Gotland. The walled city of Visby, site of a famous battle with the Danes in 1361 (I was only a lad of 8 then), is the center of activity for most of the island. AS luck would have it, while coming ashore, we barely escaped with our lives, under the guise of tourists, from the Border Defense Troops rcruitment of "Volunteers"!! Many of this land's youth are conscripted for a year's defense of their homeland.

We examined, in great detail, the city wall's fortification. Milord Rolf and I left our midrealm friend to complete the inspection of the rest of the island's defenses and we returned home. Our return was through the land of the Danes. The remainder of our journey was quite uneventful.

I hereby close this missive, and uncle, if you are reading this, I hope that you are pleased with my report, and grant me leave of my duties and allow me to return home soon!

In service to our beloved realm,

Eoin

AN SCA DITTY (cr.) VIKING VINTR THEME

And it's off to the plains and the hills for adventure,
It's off to the mountains and bogs we will go.
It's off to the rivers and seas for adventure,
We're brave bold marauders in the wind, rain and snow.

The sight of a town, well it fills us with gusto,
For we know we can plunder and loot it all day.
We'll take all your food, then your gold, and your women,
We're brave bold marauders and this is our way.

And it's off to the plains and the hills for adventure,
It's off to the mountains and bogs we will go.
It's off to the rivers and seas for adventure,
We're brave bold marauders in the wind, rain and snow.

No castle's too mighty, nor farm is too lowly,
For us to take over and stay for the night.
So what if we're surly and lacking in manners,
We're brave bold marauders, so this is our right.

And it's off to the plains and the hills for adventure,
It's off to the mountains and bogs we will go.
It's off to the rivers and seas for adventure,
We're brave bold marauders in the wind, rain and snow.

When we've plundered your country and drunk all your liquor,
It's time we start roaming and searching for more.
We'll build wooden ships with sails tall and mighty,
We're brave bold marauders from a far distant shore.

And it's off to the plains and the hills for adventure,
It's off to the mountains and bogs we will go.
It's off to the rivers and seas for adventure,
We're brave bold marauders in the wind, rain and snow.

The Colorado Springs newsletter is the 'Meiassis Dragon', $6.00 for 12 monthly issues. Please consider subscribing.

Be thinking about what to name our group on campus.

NEW BELEDI CLASS

Anyone interested in learning Beledi, the art of belly dancing, should call me, Aleta (aka Selene) at 597-5259. I have room for up to 6 people, unless someone finds us a bigger space, hint, hint. The next beginner's class will start Monday, October 19 at 8 pm at my house. PLEASE PHONE, I may have to change days due to a possible company-sponsored ADA class. Wear clothes that let you move comfortably. The advanced class will continue to meet on Thursday nights. Due to a definite lack of space, please do not attend on both nights -- we'll join classes later.

Midwinter
